Uranium fuels nuclear power plants. 1 kg of uranium-235 produces as much energy as 1.5 million kg of coal.

Dense depleted uranium is used in shielding, aircraft counterweights, and in armour piercing weaponry.

The first nuclear bomb used in World War II used enriched uranium-235 as its nuclear fuel.