

DNA

Phosphorus is essential for life, and it forms part of the sugar-phosphate backbone of DNA and RNA.

MATCHBOXES

Red phosphorus is found on the striking surface of safety match boxes which ignites matches when struck.

LIGHT BEARER

White phosphorus glows when exposed to oxygen – its name is derived from the greek for 'light-bearer'.